Read the story and answer the Questions (1-10)

Once upon a time, in a small town, there was a magical library that only opened its doors to children who truly loved books. One day, two best friends named Emma and Jack stumbled upon the library while exploring the town.

As they entered, they were greeted by a kind librarian who showed them around the library. They were amazed by the thousands of books stacked from floor to ceiling. But what truly surprised them was when the librarian revealed that the books were not ordinary, but magical ones!

Emma and Jack were ecstatic and couldn't wait to explore the library. They quickly found a book titled "The Enchanted Forest" and as they opened it, they were immediately transported to a magical world filled with talking animals and colorful trees.

As they wandered through the forest, they met a wise owl who told them that they needed to find the key to unlock the library's most magical book. The key was hidden somewhere in the forest, and they had to solve a riddle to find it.

After hours of searching, they finally found the key and rushed back to the library. The librarian was waiting for them with the most enchanted book they had ever seen. It was called "The Book of Wonders," and it was said to grant any wish.

Markhor Junior Contest

Emma and Jack were overjoyed, but they knew that they had to use their wish wisely. After much thought, they decided to wish for all the children in their town to have access to the magic library and its enchanted books.

Their wish was granted, and from that day on, the library opened its doors to all children who loved books. Emma and Jack became the town's heroes, and the magic library remained a special place for children to explore and experience the wonders of reading.

Read the poem and answer the questions (11-15)

Imagination, oh imagination,
A world of wonder and creation
Where dreams can come alive and play,
And thoughts can turn into reality.

Close your eyes and let it flow,
To distant lands, you'll surely go.
Magical creatures and far-off places,
A universe of endless spaces

With a canvas blank and free,
A world of art you can see.
Paint with colors bold and bright,
Create a world of your delight.

A story can unfold in your mind,
Characters and plots you can find.
Write it down or speak it out,
A masterpiece that will leave no doubt

Imagination, oh imagination,
A world of endless exploration
So let it soar and take flight,
The power of imagination shining bright
